2 - Specifically, the General Meeting shall be responsible for:
a) Deciding on the annual report and accounts;

b) Deciding on the proposed appropriation of profits;

c) Conducting, every year, a general assessment of the company's management and supervision;

d) Electing the members of the board of the General Meeting, the members of the Board of Directors, indicating the chairperson and the vice-chairperson, the members of the Supervisory Board and the Statutory Auditors;

e) Deciding on amendments to the articles of incorporation and capital increases;

f) Deciding on the remunerations of the members of the statutory bodies and, for that purpose, appointing a remuneration committee composed of three independent members empowered to set those remunerations;

g) Authorizing the acquisition and sale of real estate properties and investments, both of them when they exceed twenty percent of the share capital;

h) Dealing with any matter for which it has been convened.

CONVENING OF MEETINGS

The General Meeting shall be convened by the chairperson of the board, or by the person replacing him/her, at least one month in advance, by registered letter addressed to the State as shareholder and with express indications of the matters to be dealt with.

MEETINGS

1 - The General Meeting shall be held at least once a year and whenever its convening is requested to the chairperson of the Meeting board by the Board of Directors, the Supervisory Board or the State.

2 - The General Meeting shall be held at the registered office or at the location indicated in the meeting notice.

BOARD OF THE GENERAL MEETING

The board of the General Meeting consists of a chairperson, a vice-chairperson and a secretary.
SECTION III - Board of Directors

ARTICLE 18
COMPOSITION

The Board of Directors shall consist of a minimum of seven and a maximum of twenty members, including one chairperson and one or two vice-chairpersons.

ARTICLE 19
DELEGATION OF MANAGEMENT POWERS

1 - Without prejudice to the provisions of the following paragraph, the Board of Directors may instruct one or some of its members to deal with certain management-related matters.

2 - The Board of Directors shall delegate the daily management of the company to an Executive Committee consisting of five to nine of its members, defining the limits and conditions of the delegation.

ARTICLE 20
COMPETENCE AND FUNCTIONING

1 - The Board of Directors shall be responsible for exercising the broadest powers of management and representation of the company and for performing all actions necessary or convenient for the pursuit of the activities covered by the corporate object.

2 - Specifically, the Board of Directors shall be responsible for:

   a) Managing corporate affairs and performing all actions related to the corporate object;

   b) Defining the overall strategy and policies of the company;

   c) Establishing the internal organization of the company and drafting the regulations and instructions deemed appropriate to ensure the implementation of appropriate internal control, risk management, reporting, supervision and accounting structures;

   d) Hiring the employees of the company, establishing the respective contractual conditions, and exercising the corresponding directive and disciplinary power with regard to them;

   e) Appointing representatives with the powers deemed convenient;
f) Deciding, pursuant to Article 4(3) (Object), on the participation in the share capital of other companies, as well as in any joint ventures, complementary groupings of companies and European economic interest groupings;

g) Acquiring, encumbering and selling any movable or immovable assets and rights, including holdings, and making investments, when that is deemed appropriate for the company, without prejudice to Article 14(2)(g) (Competence);

h) Deciding on the issue of bonds or any other financial instruments, pursuant to Article 7 (Bonds);

i) Executing and enforcing the resolutions of the General Meeting;

j) Representing the company in and out of court, both actively and passively, being able to admit to, desist from or settle any claims and commit, via an arbitration agreement, to a decision taken by arbitrators;

k) Performing other duties as assigned by law or by these articles of incorporation and decide on any other matters that do not fall within the competence of the other statutory bodies.

3 - To ensure its regular functioning, the Board of Directors shall:

a) Coopt directors to fill vacancies as and when they arise, subject to ratification at the first General Meeting following that cooption;

b) Approve an internal operation regulation and the operation regulations of the committees it sets up.

ARTICLE 21

COMPETENCE OF THE CHAIRPERSON AND OF THE VICE-CHAIRPERSONS

1 - Specifically, the chairperson of the Board of Directors shall be responsible for:

a) Representing the Board of Directors;

b) Coordinating the activity of the Board of Directors and convening and running the respective meetings;

c) Ensuring the correct execution of the resolutions passed by the Board of Directors.

2 - The chairperson of the Board of Directors shall be replaced, when absent or prevented from acting, by the vice-chairperson who, for that purpose, has been chosen by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE 22

MEETINGS AND RESOLUTIONS

1 - The Board of Directors shall meet, in ordinary sessions, at such intervals as the board may determine and, in extraordinary session, whenever convened by its chairperson, on his/her own initiative or at the request of two directors.

2 - The meetings shall be held at the registered office or at another place indicated in the meeting notice.

3 - The notice can be made in writing, by electronic communication or by simple verbal communication, even if by telephone.

4 - No resolutions can be passed by the Board of Directors unless the majority of its members is present or represented.

5 - Any director may be represented at a meeting of the Board of Directors by another director, by means of a letter addressed to its chairperson, but each representation instrument may not be used more than once.

6 - The resolutions of the Board of Directors shall be passed by a simple majority of votes cast, and the chairperson, or his/her substitute, shall have a casting vote in the event of a tie.

7 - The directors who, without a justification accepted by the Board of Directors, fail to attend six or more consecutive or non-consecutive meetings per term of office are deemed to be permanently absent.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1 - The Executive Committee consists of five to nine members, who shall be appointed by the Board of Directors, which shall also appoint the Chairperson of the Executive Committee.

2 - The activities of the Executive Committee shall be coordinated by the Chairperson of the Executive Committee, who shall have a casting vote.

3 - The operation of the Executive Committee shall comply with the applicable legal provisions and the respective operation regulations, as well as with what might be defined by the Board of Directors.

4 - The members of the Executive Committee who, without justification accepted by it, fail to attend more than one fifth of the meetings held during a specific fiscal year, are deemed to be permanently absent.

5 - The delegation of powers to the Executive Committee shall cease by resolution of the Board of Directors or automatically when any of the following situations occur:

   a) Replacement of the chairperson of the Executive Committee or of the majority of its members;
b) End of the term of office of the Board of Directors that performed the delegation.

ARTICLE 24
COMPANY ACCOUNTABILITY

1 - The company shall be bound by the intervention:

   a) Of the majority of the members of the Board of Directors;
   b) Of two members of the executive committee;
   c) Of an appointed representative, within the scope of the respective mandate;
   d) Of a single director, within the scope of deals concluded under the delegation of the Board of Directors and within the limits of such delegation.

2 - In mere day-to-day matters, the invention of a member of the Executive Committee shall suffice.

3 - The Board of Directors may decide, in accordance with and to the extent permitted by law, that certain documents of the company shall be signed by mechanical processes or by seal.

ARTICLE 25
SPECIAL COMMITTEES

1 - The company's Board of Directors shall appoint the following advisory and support committees:

   a) Audit and Internal Control Committee, which shall be responsible, specifically, for monitoring the activity of the Executive Committee, the process of preparation and disclosure of financial information and the effectiveness of internal control, nonfinancial risk management and internal audit systems, without prejudice to the powers of the Supervisory Board in these matters;
   b) Financial Risk Committee, which shall be responsible, specifically, for monitoring the policies for the management of all the financial risks related to the company's activity, including liquidity, interest rate, exchange rate, market and credit risks, without prejudice to the powers of the Supervisory Board in these matters;
   c) Appointment, Assessment and Remuneration Committee, which shall be responsible, specifically, for commenting on the filling of vacancies in the statutory bodies, on the choice of the directors who should be appointed to the executive committee and others, as well as on their assessment and respective remuneration policy;
   d) Governance Committee, which shall be responsible, specifically, for preparing an annual report on the functioning of the corporate governance structure to be presented to the Board of Directors, as well as for commenting on issues related to social responsibility, ethics, professional conduct and environmental protection.
2 - Each of the Committees referred to in the preceding paragraph shall consist of three to six members.

3 - In addition to what is specifically indicated in the various subparagraphs of the preceding paragraph, the advisory and support committees shall have such other powers and composition as may be defined by the Board of Directors, which shall also define, through regulations, the respective modes of operation.

4 - Unless otherwise stipulated in mandatory legal provisions, the majority of the members of the advisory and support committees shall consist of directors who are not members of the executive committee, and may also include members of the Supervisory Board.

ARTICLE 26
SOCIAL BENEFITS

The directors enjoy the social benefits granted to company employees, under the terms that may be defined at the General Meeting or, if it has been appointed, by the remuneration committee.

SECTION IV - Supervisory Bodies

1 - The Supervisory Board shall consist of three full members and an alternate member.

2 - Without prejudice to other legal requirements, the members of the Supervisory Board shall have the necessary professional qualifications and experience in order to perform their duties. The majority shall be independent and have an appropriate higher education degree, as well as a high level of knowledge and expertise in the areas of finance, accounting and auditing or operational knowledge in the area of banking.

3 - All members of the Supervisory Board are subject to the incompatibility rules provided by law.

4 - The General Meeting shall be responsible for electing the members of the Supervisory Board, as well as for appointing its chairperson.
5 - The chairperson of the Supervisory Board shall be responsible for convening and running the respective meetings, having a casting vote.

6 - The Supervisory Board shall meet, ordinarily, at least once every two months, and whenever the Chairperson deems it necessary or one of the other members so requests.

7 - The meetings of the Supervisory Board shall be convened by the respective chairperson at least five days in advance, and the notice can be made in writing, by electronic communication or by simple verbal communication, even if by telephone.

8 - The Supervisory Board shall only pass resolutions if a majority of its members is present. The resolutions of the Supervisory Board shall be passed by a simple majority of the votes cast, and the members who do not agree with them shall include in the corresponding minutes the reasons for their disapproval.

9 - Any members of the Supervisory Board who, without an accepted justification, during the fiscal year, fail to attend two board meetings, or one General Meeting or two meetings of the Board of Directors to which they are convened or in which the accounts for the financial year are discussed, shall be removed from their position.

ARTICLE 29

COMPETENCE

1 - In addition to the competences laid down in the law and in these articles of incorporation, the Supervisory Board is responsible for:

   a) Supervising the management of the company;
   b) Ensuring compliance with the law and with these articles of incorporation;
   c) Verifying the regularity of books, accounting records and supporting documents;
   d) Verifying the accuracy of the financial statements and, in general, overseeing the quality and integrity of the financial information contained therein;
   e) Supervising the preparation and disclosure of financial information;
   f) Verifying whether the accounting policies and valuation criteria adopted by the company lead to a correct assessment of its assets and results;
   g) Preparing, every year, a report on its supervisory activity and giving an opinion on the report, accounts and proposals presented by the Board of Directors;
   h) Supervising the accounting review and the audit of the company's financial statements;
   i) Proposing to the General Meeting the appointment of the Statutory Auditor;
   j) Supervising the independence of the Statutory Auditor, namely in what regards the provision of additional services;
k) Supervising the quality and effectiveness of the risk management, internal control and internal audit systems, and overseeing the performance of the duties carried out within the scope of the company's internal audit and internal control system;

l) Receiving communications of irregularities, complaints and/or claims submitted by the shareholder, company employees or others, and implementing procedures for their reception, registration and processing;

m) Hiring the services of experts to assist in the performance of its duties, acknowledging that the hiring and remuneration of these experts shall take into account the importance of the affairs in question and the company's economic situation.

2 - The members of the Supervisory Board are also, jointly or separately, responsible for:

a) Attending the meetings of the Board of Directors and of the General Meeting to which they are convened or in which the accounts for the financial year are discussed;

b) Exercising conscientious and impartial supervision;

c) Making a written record of all the verifications, inspections, complaints received and efforts carried out, as well as their results;

d) Providing the Board of Directors with information on the verifications, inspections and efforts carried out, as well as their results;

e) Issuing opinions on any matter provided for in the applicable legal provisions or presented to it by the Board of Directors;

f) Submitting to the Board of Directors any issue that requires its consideration.

3 - While performing their duties, the members of the Supervisory Board may, specifically:

a) Obtain, from the board of directors, the company's books, records and documents for analysis and verification, and check the stocks of any class of assets and also, in particular, of cash, securities and merchandise;

b) Obtain, from the board of directors or from any of the directors, information or clarifications on the course of the company's operations or activities or on any of its businesses;

c) Obtain, from third parties that have carried out operations on behalf of the company, the information they need for the proper clarification of such operations;

d) Attend the meetings of the board of directors, whenever they deem it convenient.

STATUTORY AUDITORS
1 - Upon proposal of the Supervisory Board, the General Meeting shall appoint a statutory auditor, registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission, to examine the company's accounts.

2 - The Statutory Auditor shall carry out all the examinations and verifications required to review the company's accounts.

3 - In addition to carrying out the duties provided for by law and by these articles of incorporation, the Statutory Auditor may also decide on any other matters, as requested by the Board of Directors or the Supervisory Board.

SECTION V - Secretary

ARTICLE 31
COMPANY SECRETARY

1 - The company shall have an effective Secretary and an alternate one, to be appointed by the Board of Directors.

2 - The duties of company Secretary are performed by a person with an appropriate university degree or by a solicitor.

3 - If the effective Secretary is absent or prevented from acting, its duties shall be performed by the alternate Secretary.

4 - The term of office of the Secretary shall coincide with the mandate of the Board of Directors that appoints him/her.

5 - In addition to other duties provided for by law, the company Secretary is specifically responsible for:

   a) Acting as secretary in the meetings of the statutory bodies;

   b) Drawing up the minutes and signing them together with the members of the respective governing bodies and the chairperson of the board of the General Meeting, in that case;

   c) Keeping, storing and maintaining in good order the minutes books and sheets, attendance lists and documents associated with them;

   d) Certifying the signatures of the members of the statutory bodies added to the company's documents;

   e) Promoting the registration of corporate acts that require it.
CHAPTER IV
